

Geyserville Chamber of Commerce

Oliver Ranch Tour Saturday, May 26, 2018

Oliver Ranch is a unique 100-acre preserve dedicated to site-specific art. In 1985, Steven and Nancy Oliver commissioned their first piece. Since then, the Olivers have commissioned 18 works that rise up over the rolling hills of the ranch's landscape.

As lifelong art patrons, the Olivers see the ranch as a model for philanthropy and a way to nurture the growth and development of artists, who opt to work directly with the Olivers for a more "earthy experience."

The Oliver Ranch is not open to the public; tours are strictly for the benefit of nonprofit groups such as the Geyserville Chamber of Commerce.

The tour meets at the the Oriental Hall, 1000 Hwy 128, Geyserville, east of town at the intersection of Moody Lane and Hwy 128, at 9:30am on Saturday, May 26, 2018. Transportation to the Oliver Ranch will be provided as part of the tour pricing. The tour generally lasts 2-3 hours and covers 2.5 miles, the tour is not wheelchair accessible and there are no onsite rest rooms.
